

Pennsylvania Deaths Have Officials Puzzled

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Medical researchers today sought to identify an unknown, flu-like disease which in the past four days has brought death to 16 persons who attended a state American Legion convention. Health officials said there was no cause for panic.

Public health officials said the outbreak, which has sent at least 50 other people to the hospital, may be the result of swine flu. They said that they could not now make a firm diagnosis, suggesting viral pneumonia as another possible cause.

The ages of the dead ranged from 39 to 82. At least one death has been recorded officially as pneumonia. Autopsies have been ordered in many of the deaths.

All of the victims experienced the same symptoms: headaches, fever ranging to 107 degrees and chills. These were followed, in most cases, by chest pains, lung congestion and shortness of breath.

"I've never seen anything like it," said state Health Secretary Leonard Bachman.

Blood samples and throat swabbings from the victims were sent to state health laboratories in Philadelphia and flown to the federal Center for Disease Control in Atlanta for tests.

It will take two to three days to grow cultures from the samples. These cultures could lead to identification of the disease.

Cases of the illness were reported throughout the state. All the persons affected attended the 10-day Legion convention in Philadelphia that ended July 24. The first reports of illness came last Monday; the first death last Friday. It was the mounting death toll Monday that alarmed public health officials.

Bachman was asked if it could be swine flu. "That's a possibility," he said. "We're trying to pin it down, but we don't know right now. But there's no reason to panic, everyone should realize that."

More than one million people from throughout the world are gathered in Philadelphia this week for the Roman Catholic International Eucharistic Congress. Congress officials said they had no plan to curtail activities.

The Center for Disease Control, an arm of the U.S. Public Health Service, dispatched a three-man medical investigative team to Pennsylvania. Two other virus experts from the CDC were already in the state.

Dr. Michael Gregg, director of the center's Viral Disease Division, said the symptoms reported by victims are similar to influenza, but it was too early, he said, to say whether it was swine flu.

One recruit died when several hundred soldiers at Fort Dix, N.J., contracted swine flu early this year. The outbreak prompted plans for a nationwide immunization campaign this fall. The program is bogged down on issues of insurance protection for the drug companies producing the vaccine for immunization.

Most of those stricken in Pennsylvania were delegates to the Legion convention, although some wives and children who attended with delegates have also fallen ill.

More than 10,000 legionnaires attended the convention. Bachman said the number of dead and sick in the outbreak will not be known until a statewide hospital-by-hospital survey is finished.

All the deaths were in Pennsylvania, with the exception of one Philadelphia man who died in North Carolina during a postconvention trip to Florida.

"In the few households we have contacted, we have found no secondary spread to family members," said Dr. William Parkin, chief of the state Health Department's epidemiology section. "That may be the exception rather than the rule as we get more information."

"I can't say there will be transmissions from American Legionnaires to people they are in contact with. We have not had any cases like that yet."

The convention was headquartered at one of Philadelphia's largest hotels although delegates stayed in at least six different hotels. There were fears of food poisoning, but that was ruled out. The symptoms were not similar to those of food poisoning.

Legion officials and state health officers urged any persons with the symptoms of the disease to contact a hospital.

"We're worried about the people who may be carrying around this disease and not know it," said Joseph Adams, commander of the state American Legion.

Richard Dolan, 42, was the only survivor of a threesome from the central Pennsylvania community of Williamstown that attended the convention. His cousin, James Dolan, 39, and John Ralph, 41, both died.

Like the other two men, Richard Dolan became ill after the convention. However, he said he suffers from a chronic condition and was taking antibiotics while he was in Philadelphia.

"This whole thing is so confusing," said Dolan. "My first cousin and one of my best friends are dead."

Lottery Infected With Convicts?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The integrity of Ohio's state lottery is intact despite revelations that as many as 17 persons with criminal records are serving on the lottery commission's staff in the Cleveland area, a state official says.

Commission Director Gerald J. Patronite said through a spokesman that the integrity "has not been impugned or questioned," but he did promise a full investigation into the records of employees. The spokesman said Patronite would comment further today.

His Cleveland office was asked to respond to statements made at a Columbus news conference earlier Monday by four Republican House members and Robert Huffman, Miami County's prosecutor who ventured outside his own jurisdiction for an independent probe of the lottery staff in Cleveland, the lottery's headquarters.

Rep. Robert E. Netzeley, R-81 Laura (Miami County) said he asked Huffman to pursue the matter after an unrelated probe of slot machine activity in Miami County hinted at ties between the lottery and organized gambling. Netzeley said he doesn't trust the attorney general or Cleveland authorities, a comment that later infuriated Atty. Gen. William J. Brown.

Huffman said his probe was "by no means complete," and involved only 40 man hours. He said it included actual investigations of 63 employees among 277 in Cuyahoga County. Seven have "serious" criminal records, including one chief inspector, while others have been convicted of lesser offenses or have ties with known organized gambling operations, he said. The prosecutor declined to release the names of the employees.

In response to questions, he and Netzeley, along with Reps. Richard H. Finan, R-19 Cincinnati; William G. Batchelder, R-93 Medina, and James E. Betts, R-3 Rocky River, said they found no hard evidence of wrongdoing by any employee.

Huffman said salaries of those with records range from about $7,000 to $16,000 a year, and that their past crimes included rape, grand larceny, selling narcotics, burglary, smuggling, auto theft, promoting prostitution, and operating a moonshine still, among others. The oldest conviction was for rape in 1927. The latest involved a $25 fine for gambling in 1970.

Batchelder, an attorney, said there was no state law that prohibits the state from hiring exconvicts, including those with gambling records, but he feels it is a bad policy. "You don't hire a convict to run a day camp," he said.

Huffman charged that the attorney general has been "aware for some time" of the existence of felons on the commission staff, and he was convinced Brown conducted his own probe and decided to suppress the findings.

Brown heatedly denied the charge, attributed it to politics, and said his office never has been asked to conduct nor has it ever investigated lottery employees. If Huffman and the others have information, they should bring it to him—"put up or shut up," the attorney general said.

Netzeley and the other lawmakers earlier visited the office of Gov. James A. Rhodes and requested him to order an immediate investigation by the Ohio Highway Patrol—a request the governor turned down.

Instead, Rhodes told them they should present their information to "the proper authorities"—the attorney general or the Cuyahoga County prosecutor. Rhodes did reiterate, however, his earlier objections to the lottery statute which empowers the commission members and not the director to hire staff and set salaries. Patronite is a Rhodes appointee, but the five-member commission is comprised of a majority of former Gov. John J. Gilligan's appointees.

The attorney general likewise noted that he has no authority over the hiring and firing of commission employees, and that the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London, Ohio, under Brown's office, doesn't run background checks on state employees unless requested.

Soviets Say Athlete Brainwashed

MONTREAL (AP) — The deputy chief of the Russian delegation to the Olympics has claimed that young diver Sergei Nemtsanov was brainwashed into defecting as part of an organized plot to encourage Soviet athletes to remain in Canada.

"It is our opinion that Nemtsanov has been psychologically brainwashed by highly trained specialists," Anatoly Kolesov charged during a 35-minute angry news conference Monday.

"We always knew Sergei as a lively, happy person. But yesterday when we met with him he was in a depressed state with a dazed stare and he kept repeating like a parrot, 'I chose freedom.'"

A Canadian immigration department official disagreed, saying Nemtsanov seemed to be in good spirits.

Kolesov claimed that when the 17-year-old Nemtsanov asked to speak alone to friend David Ambartsumyan, another member of the Soviet diving team, officials insisted that a translator be present.

For the only time during the news conference, Kolesov laughed. "No translator is needed between two Soviet athletes who are friends," he said.

PORK QUEEN — The 1976 Pickaway County Fair Pork Queen is Nancy Mace, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mace, Route 2, Williamsport. She was presented her trophy and crown by last year's queen and this year's District VII Pork Queen, Connie Drummond, right, Route 1, Clarksburg. Ms. Mace received $50, a $25 savings bond, trophy, tiara, and a free shampoo and set from the M & W Beauty Salon, Williamsport. Chairman of the contest was Ruby Donohew. Nancy will compete in the district contest in October.

Midway Chatter

In spite of a delayed start, the Pickaway County Fair harness races were over by a little after 8 p.m. And over $8,400 was wagered by those attending the race.

The Stall Cleaner (who prefers to remain anonymous) claims he did a pretty good job of picking winners. The list was published in Monday's edition of The Herald. However, he lost confidence in his selections when he got to the mutuel windows and lost everything but his pitchfork.

Today's racing program, post-time 4 p.m., includes the Forrest Short Memorial 3-Year-Old Filly Pace. Named in honor of Pickaway County's "Gentleman of Harness Racing", a special trophy has been donated by the Short Family, Mrs. Forrest Short, the Missess Ann and Sara Short, and Mrs. Mary Claire Wilson.

Forrest Short was well known in harness racing circles. It was a sport he did not pursue until he was nearly 50. He won the first race ever held at Scioto Downs and won his first race at Old Washington in 1947. Mr. Short was 81 years old when he lost his life in a racing accident July 25, 1975, at Scioto Downs. He was driving J. W. Song in the feature race and was involved in a collision on the track.

At Monday's racing program, there were three outsiders — Miss Lori Pritchard of Stoutsville, Mrs. Kenneth Cummins, Ashville and Miss Beth Hovermale, Circleville. Outriders parading the horses to the post today will be Miss Lori Pritchard and Mrs. Kenneth Cummins.

Other race officials were the popular Phil Mauger, announcer; Claire Baker, starter; Robert Steele, general manager of Scioto Downs, the presiding judge; Glenn McCoy and Steve Jones, associate judges, Neal M. Frazier, Charles Carle Sr. and Alva May, timers; Ann and Sara Short and Mary Claire Wilson, clerks; Linda Pollock, race charter; John Fissell, race secretary. Firms donating trophy blankets yesterday and today include: Shaeffer Tire Center, The Savings Bank, R&N Steele's Stonerock's TV and Appliance, Lindsey's Bake Shop, Elks Lodge, Sturm and Dillard Co.

Members of the speed committee at the Pickaway County Fair are Harlow Arledge, Dick Shaw, Fissell and McCoy.

Lifesavers

Not many years ago it wasn't considered polite to talk about suicides. Coroners sometimes listed some other cause of death to avoid embarrassment to the family. Psychiatrists were about the only professionals to come into contact with suicides before the fact, and then only when one became a patient. But in dozens of communities in the U.S., this has changed.

These are the cities and towns which have suicide prevention bureaus. Almost all locally financed and staffed in large part by volunteers, these bureaus show the burgeoning interest of the public in preventing suicides. A new class of professionals — suicidologists — is springing up around the centers. These are the clergymen and psychiatrists who make selves available to the depressed person.

Not all callers are actively pursuing a suicide. Some simply seek help for personal problems. But with suicide the 10th ranking cause of death in the U.S. last year, just having someone to talk to can be a lifesaver.

Today In History

'Fine And Dandy'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Nearly 50 years ago, most women weren't talking about liberation — but many were achieving it.

"We never had the feeling we weren't equal," says Kay Swift of those days in the 1920s and '30s. "I don't remember ever losing any chances because I was a woman, not at all." You could "do your thing" and, if it was good enough, nobody worried or objected because it was the thing-doing of a female.

Kay's thing was music. In 1929 she composed "Can't We Be Friends," a popular standard through the years. In 1930, she wrote "Fine and Dandy," an even more enduring hit. Other compositions, including "Can This Be Love?" and the ballet "Alma Mater" followed.

In those allegedly pre-liberated days, other women songwriters were equally successful. Mabel Wayne turned out the music for "Ramona" and "In a Little Spanish Town"; Ann Ronell wrote "Rain on the Roof" and "Willow Weep for Me." Dana Suisse conceived "My Silent Love." And the late Dorothy Fields dashed off dozens of lyrics to lasting hit songs written by a variety of male composers.

It's sort of odd, isn't it? There were more women songwriters and popular poets and novelists in those decades before the Women's Movement than there are today. Today, girl recording artists like Bobby Gentry, Carly Simon and Judy Collins write much of their own material, but one of it seems likely to bring in the royalties, 50 years hence, that Kay Swift pulls in on her two top standards, "Can't We Be Friends" and "Fine and Dandy."

Every time either is played, live or on recording, ASCAP (American Society of Composers and Publishers) collects a fee and hands a chunk of money to Kay Swift. "It's a good business, writing hit songs," she says, drolly. "I wonder why more women today don't go into it."

She's kidding, partly of course. "You can't sit down and say, 'Now I'm going to write a pop standard.' Nobody's ever done that, man or woman. Not even Cole Porter, not even George

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Some of our friends think that the ballyhoo about the swine flu vaccine is exaggerated. What is the doctor's point of view?

Mr. and Mrs. J. W., Maine

Dear Mr. and Mrs. W.:

If only one life is saved by the "ballyhoo" then your friends are wrong.

Far too many people have called this intensive drive a political maneuver. This is totally unfair because epidemiologists who know about the spread of disease are completely separated from any such intrigue.

Already, thousands of people across the country have served as test subjects to evaluate the dose requirements, the efficacy and the side reactions of the new "swine flu" vaccine.

It is well known that any flu injection may cause sore arms and a mild fever in a small percentage of cases.

For years, doctors have heard the complaint, "I got an injection and then caught the flu so I'll never take it again." This is not valid and has been responsible for the fact that in 1957 and 1968 many people who chose not to be inoculated became a mortality statistic.

Unless there is a specific contraindication to its use because of allergy or hypersensitivity, the scientific value of the new vaccine must be accepted.

The plan of Public Health officials is to keep all doctors posted on every phase of this great national undertaking. If there are any political overtones it is an excellent reflection on the "political" awareness that good health is a substructure of our destiny.

For the past few months my fingernails have become dark yellow in color. I've tried everything to get rid of this discoloration without success. All ten nails have this color.

Mrs. R. M., Mass.

Dear Mrs. M.:

The first thought that occurs to me is the possibility that the nails themselves may not be discolored. Perhaps it is the bed beneath the nail that is yellowish.

Discolorations of this sort may be due to a mild jaundice. This can be easily determined by many of the blood tests that are now available.

It is difficult to believe that a fungus infection would involve all of the fingers. Have you consulted a doctor about this or are you just trying a variety of homemade remedies?

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In what its chairman termed "another small and prudent step" toward reducing inflation, the Federal Reserve Board has cut its growth target for consumer savings, and thereby confused more than a few people.

Speaking very generally, money is the fuel of economic activity. The Fed controls it, or at least seeks to. Too much money flowing into the economy can generate inflationary demand; too little can retard growth.

For four straight quarters the Fed has reduced its long-term money-supply growth. Consumer savings are a part of money supply. The Fed says there has been an "ample flow" of savings into mortgage lenders. So the goal was cut.

What baffles a lot of people is how Chairman Arthur Burns reached the conclusion, as indicated in testimony a week ago to the House Banking Committee, that the savings rate was adequate and that by lowering the rate inflation would be restrained.

"Savings are what we want," snapped John Wright, who, as president of Wright Bankers' Service, manages and advises many banks on their investment portfolios. He finds the reasoning "astounding."

If the supply of savings has been ample, he asks, why the persistence of 9.15 per cent home mortgage interest rates that have suppressed new home construction?

"The declared objective of the board to reduce the savings rate," he said, "is in direct opposition to the national objective of increasing our rate of national capital formation, which begins and ends with personal savings, as distinguished from consumption."

The reason, said Wright, "is upside down."

He maintains it is also difficult to reconcile such statements as "activity in all major sectors of the private economy" seem "posed for further advances" with such basic economic facts as:

—U.S. industrial production, at 73 per cent of capacity, has not yet managed to recover to even its lowest levels during the last three recessions —74.2 per cent 1970, 87.3 in 1967 and 74.2 in 1961.

—Recovery of Gross National Product slowed from plus 9.2 per cent in the first quarter of the year to 4.4 per cent during the second quarter, in constant — that is, comparable — dollars.

—Growth of real disposable personal income also slowed to a plus 4.5 per cent annual recovery rate during the second quarter, while unemployment remained at an intolerable 7.5 per cent, and retail sales actually declined.

The underlying reason for the sluggish recovery, says Wright, is easy to find, a high, 7 to 7.25 per cent prime lending rate, "which reflects deliberate FRB policy." That rate, he states, is largely responsible for the sluggishness in business borrowing.

"Under these circumstances, it is no wonder that business investment is not expanding significantly and that unemployment is not diminishing at all," he concludes.

In Wright's view, the policy of the Fed should be one of encouraging capital formation, which begins with individual savings, and which supplies the wherewithal for an expansion of job-producing economic activity.

Propose National Youth Job Program

BOSTON (AP) — The director of the National Urban League has proposed a national youth employment program to save young people from "the rubbish heap of economic surplus and dependency."

Vernon E. Jordan Jr. said Sunday the league estimates the unemployment rate among young blacks 16 to 19 is 64 per cent.

"Denied the opportunity to equip themselves for self-sufficiency, they face enforced idleness, frustration, the temptations of the street and lifetimes of poverty and dependence," Jordan said.

He commented in the keynote speech at the league's 66th annual conference.

The Chagrin River got its name from the fact that Gen. Moses Cleveland and his party, surveying the area for the Connecticut Land Co. in 1796, were chagrined because at first they believed it to have been the Cuyahoga River.

Motorcycle Rider Injured Monday

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy J. R. Fite investigated an injury-causing accident involving a motorcycle on the Tarlton Road just east of Zane Trace Road.

Stephen R. Draise, 20, Route 1, Williamsport, was injured severely when he crested a small grade Monday night and lost control of his vehicle traveling off the right side of the road into a ditch.

Draise suffered compound fracture to his left leg, severe lacerations to his chin, multiple contusions and abrasions. He was taken to Berzer Hospital by the Tarlton Squad and later transferred to Riverside Hospital.

An unknown criminal broke into a shop owned by Clay Thompson, Route 2, Canal Winchester, and stole a router sometime during the past two weeks. The router is valued at $100 according to Deputy Billy Huffman's report.

Paul Porter Jr., 615 Ridgewood Drive, told sheriff's deputies that a culprit entered Porter's Laundry Mat, 1185 N. Court St., and took a 10-speed bicycle valued at $100 belonging to his son between 2 p.m. Friday and 7 p.m. Sunday.

Lawrence Smith, 236 Gregory Trailer Court advised the sheriff's office that someone stole a tire, rim, and chrome lug nuts, all valued at $65, from his car between 1 and 8 a.m. Monday.

Terry L. Davis, 11482 Ballah Rd., Orient, told Deputy R. L. Phillips that a culprit threw an unknown item at his front window and broke it. Damage to the double-plated window is estimated at $150.

Tagg Camper Offers Complete Line Of Recreational Vehicles

For the most complete line of camper's and recreational vehicles in the area, stop in at Tagg Campers on U.S. Route 23 North. Everything from new campers to spare parts is available at Tagg's, and it's available at a good price.

Owner Walter Tagg keeps the overhead low and doesn't approach customers with high-pitched sales gimmicks. "We provide good service, and we try to give the buyer the best for his money," says Tagg.

A big item at the Tagg sales lot now is the Concord 5th Wheel. The 5th Wheel is a luxury camper trailer that includes all the conveniences of home. Its features include a six cubic foot three way refrigerator, a four-burner range with oven and automatic lighting and a power vent, 30 gallon demand water system with a six gallon gas water heater, two 20 pound gas bottles, a fire extinguisher and carpet throughout. The outfit sleeps 4 to 7 people.

Tagg points out that the 5th Wheel has all the comfort and luxury of a mobile home, and many people use it as such in the warmer southern climates during the winter.

Another popular product of the Concord line is the Concord Bantam. The 16½ foot Bantam is small enough to handle like a van, yet it features all the comforts of larger motor homes. Many families even use the Bantam as a second family car.

As with all Concord products, the Bantam is built with rugged steel cage construction, with body-bonding urethane foam insulation.

On the inside, Bantam offers four different floor plans so the buyer can obtain the Bantam best designed for his or her needs.

For touring, you can get the Bus-Type Bantam which provides ample room for luggage and seating for six persons.

If you have a camping family, then you should check the Family Camping Bantam. This model features marine toilet and shower, range, stainless steel sink, refrigerator, furnace, and dinette area.

If you like to relax when attending sports events, then look into the Party Van model of the Bantam.

If you need an extra vehicle for your business, check into the versatile Utility Van "shell" that allows you to customize as you wish.

Walter Tagg reminds customers that Tagg Campers has excellent service on nearly all makes and models of campers and recreational vehicles. A parts truck stops at Tagg Campers every Friday, so parts are never more than a few days away. And Tagg's has

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Don't Just Visit, Take Elderly Out

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column about visiting the elderly in nursing homes prompts my first "Dear Abby" letter.

I agree, it's a great service to visit an elderly friend or relative in a nursing home, but consider this: Instead of going there to sit with him while you both look at the same four walls he looks at day in and day out, why not give him a change of scenery?

Take him for a little drive and stop for a bite to eat. Or take him window shopping. Or treat him to a home-cooked meal with the family. Just being away from the institution will relieve his boredom and lift his spirits.

If he isn't able to walk, be aware that they now make lightweight wheelchairs that can be easily folded and tucked into the trunk of the car.

Abby, this is a plea to your readers who visit someone in a nursing home: Please turn those routine duty visits into special events by treating the patient to an occasional outing. It will do wonders for him. And for you, too. I know. I've been a volunteer in such a home for over 10 years.

BESS

DEAR BESS: What a pity you'll never know how much happiness your suggestion will bring to countless residents of nursing homes throughout the nation. Bless you for writing.

DEAR ABBY: I am so glad I can write to you with this problem because it has bothered me for years and I can't go to anyone else with it.

I married a very nice man and we have two lovely children. I want so much for them to be legitimate, but if I'm not, then THEY can't be either, and that is my problem.

What must I do to make my children legitimate? Thank you.

MEMPHIS MOM

DEAR MOM: You did it. You married their father. All children born to a married couple are legitimate, regardless of the legitimacy (or illegitimacy) of their parents.

DEAR ABBY: I am planning my wedding. I want my bridesmaids to wear southern bell type dresses and enter carrying parasols instead of flowers.

I want them to walk down the aisle with their parasols open, until they reach the front of the church. Then they would turn to face the congregation and close their parasols, keeping them closed for the duration of the service.

My fiance and his mother say this would look stupid. What do you and your readers think?

BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: I think it might look as though you were trying to create a Broadway musical production effect. And for those who are superstitious, it's bad luck to open an umbrella indoors.

Burger King Beef Heard

CINCINNATI (AP) — Golf Manor Mayor Michael Schwartz's beef against the Burger King hamburger chain is simple: the "Have It Your Way" song was really done his way.

Schwartz, a singer and songwriter, filed suit against the chain Monday in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court to the tune of $9,500.

The mayor of Golf Manor, a Cincinnati suburb, claims the hamburger jingle was taken from a song entitled

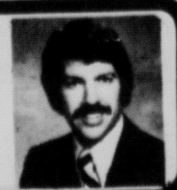

"Man's World" that he wrote, recorded and copyrighted in 1968.

Schwartz said the song was written for use in a nonprofit advertising campaign for the Big Brothers of America that was aired in 1970.

The "Have It Your Way" song is signed by Dennis Berger and copyrighted 1974 by the Burger King Corp. Schwartz submitted copies of both songs to the court.

Two hundred years ago the farmer produced food enough for one. In 1976 he produces enough for 55. Providing credit to put innovations to work has been the main job of your Federal Land Bank for nearly 60 years. Let's discuss your plans for the years ahead.

BancOhio Reports Earnings

BancOhio Corporation reported operating earnings for the first half of 1976 of $11,483,000 or $1.57 per share, a 7.2 per cent decline from the record high earnings of $12,380,000 or $1.69 per share reported in the corresponding 1975 period. Net income, after securities transactions, was $1.57 per share compared to $1.60 per share the first half of 1975.

Operating earnings for the second quarter were $6,108,000 or 83 cents per share, a 4.6 per cent decrease from the $6,402,000 or 87 cents per share earned in the second quarter of 1975. Net income for the second quarter was 83 cents per share compared to 89 cents per share in 1975.

Robert G. Stevens, chairman of the $3.5 billion asset corporation, stated that while second quarter operating earnings showed a 13.6 per cent improvement over the first quarter, the sluggish demand for business loans experienced by the nation's commercial banks continued to have a depressing effect on BancOhio's earnings. Average commercial loans outstanding for the six month period were $38.8 million less than the amount outstanding for the same period in 1975. However, Mr. Stevens also noted that a strengthening in consumer lending activities, including residential real estate loans, was encouraging and offset, to some degree, the loss in revenues from business loans.

The charge against earnings for potential loan losses in the first half amounted to $5.3 million, about the same as the $5.4 million provided in the first half of 1975. Actual net loan charge offs amounted to $4.3 million, a 44.1 per cent decrease from the amount charged off during the first six months of 1975.

The reserve for loan losses at the end of June stood at $14.5 million and represented a quite strong 0.98 per cent of loans outstanding compared to a .78 per cent at the end of June 1975.

Directors of BancOhio Corporation, July 28, 1976, declared a regular quarterly cash dividend of 30 cents per share, payable September 10, 1976 to shareholders of record August 20, 1976.

The Second National Bank of Circleville is an affiliate of BancOhio.

Cattlemen Join In Reds Farmers Night Presentation

AT FARMERS NIGHT — The Ohio Beef Marketing Program participated in the annual Cincinnati Reds Farmers Night festivities at Riverfront Stadium July 17. A purebred Angus heifer was among the prizes. Pictured with the heifer are, from the right: Smith T. Powell Jr., president, Kentucky State Beef Cattle Assn.; Mary Beth Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Evans, Zane Trail Road, Ohio Queen of Beef; Kevin Jones, Georgetown, winner; Marvin Berschet, South Charleston, chairman of the Ohio Beef Marketing Program; John Arnett, Schearbrook Land and Live Stock Inc., Clayton.

A registered Angus heifer and $250 toward the purchase of a side of beef were prizes offered by Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky cattlemen at the Cincinnati Reds Farmer's Nite on July 17. Over 51,000 baseball fans were in attendance.

The Ohio beef Marketing Program, Indiana State Beef Cattle Association, and Kentucky State Beef Cattle Association joined in the Farmer's Nite promotion.

The pure-bred Angus heifer was won by Kevin Jones, of Georgetown. She was donated to the beef organizations by Shearbrook Land and Livestock, Inc., of Clayton, Ohio. She has been bred to a Chainaina bull, and will

Rail Authority Stumbles Along

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Rail Transportation Authority (ORTA) is rolling down the line uncertainly in the face of continuing ambivalence from the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes.

ORTA was created by the legislature seven months ago to develop a statewide rail plan for freight and passenger service. To date, little has been accomplished.

"We still feel that the transportation department could do everything that ORTA is doing," Rhodes executive assistant Thomas J. Moyer told the House Economic Affairs and Federal Relations Committee last week.

Rhodes, however, signed into law legislation establishing ORTA despite the misgivings of his transportation agency.

"There seems to be an effort on the part of certain executive agencies under the control of the governor to thwart ORTA," said Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, chairman of the committee and originator of the rail authority concept.

"Mr. Moyer," he added, "what we are looking for is a spirit of cooperation in this matter."

ORTA's troubles began in April when the infant agency was evicted from offices at the State Office Tower in a problem over rent payment. Then a dispute surfaced between Transportation Director Richard Jackson, an ex-officio but voting member of the five-man ORTA board, and rail director Graeme J. MacKeown.

Jackson questioned MacKeown's educational background and the Marysville man subsequently resigned, leaving ORTA without an engineer.

Board member Carl E. Freshour has taken over as acting director, but a new dispute has arisen with the Department of Administrative Services over whether ORTA is entitled to a full-time director.

"There is no directive from the governor's office to executive departments to thwart the efforts of ORTA," Moyer told Wilkowski.

But the aide also emphasized Rhodes "doesn't see any way rail transportation can be funded without substantial subsidies from the state and federal government...that is the big stumbling block."

The long-range funding problem was compounded June 8 when voters defeated for a second consecutive time a constitutional amendment to permit state and local borrowing to salvage hundreds of miles of freight rail line.

Wilkowski wants to try the ballot issue again next June. "Maybe the third time will be the charm," he says hopefully.

"He (Rhodes) understands the critical importance of freight rail lines to many industries," Moyer assured the Toledo attorney.

ORTA is also supposed to plan for high speed passenger service between Cleveland, Akron, Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati, and along the Youngstown, Cleveland, Toledo corridor.

Amy Carter Joins Animal Campaign

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Amy Carter has joined 8-year-old Liza Diprima's campaign to save wild animals from trappers.

Liza said Amy, daughter of Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter, sent her a letter accepting honorary membership in her Animal Saving Association, a group of elementary school students organized under parental auspices.

Liza wrote to Amy last week suggesting she not sell tuna fish sandwiches at her lemonade stand at the Carter home in Plains, Ga.

Complaining that tuna fishermen drowned porpoises in catching tuna, Liza offered an honorary membership to Amy and included a campaign button reading: "Don't kill animals for fun or fur."

She said Amy replied in a letter: "Dear Liza, thanks for your letter. I really appreciate the button. I think what you believe about saving the animals is great. I do agree. I appreciate you making me an honorary member. Thanks again for writing. Your friend, Amy."

LARRY THORNTON

CHS Graduate To Teach Seminars

Larry Thornton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thornton, 100 Logan Elm Blvd., has accepted an invitation to conduct ecumenical Christian Parents Seminars at six United States Air Force Bases in England during August and September.

Thornton is a 1953 graduate of Circleville High School, a 1957 graduate of Ohio University, and a 1960 graduate of McCormick Seminary, Chicago, Ill.

Married, he and his wife Julie are the parents of three children. After graduation from seminary, he pastored in Oakland, Calif., for 7½ years before moving to Kansas City, Mo., where he is presently serving.

He will be working with Annette Pfannenstiel of Kansas City in conducting the seminars. The goal of the seminars will be the reaffirmation of the nuclear family as the basic learning environment for the formation of human character and the nurturing center for the spiritual and moral growth of children. Seminar schedule is six hours of teaching on each of the three days at each base.

Mrs. Thornton plans to join her husband in September for some touring in England and Scotland. They will return to Kansas City in late September.

Until 1850 the Western Reserve along Lake Erie was predominately an area peopled by New Englanders, as were settlements like Marietta and Granville.

Finding Faulkner

NEW YORK (AP) — One would hardly expect to find Nobel Prize winning writer William Faulkner listed in the "Encyclopedia Of Mystery & Detection" (McGraw-Hill).

But there he is right between Father Brown and Faust, Frederick. The book, edited by Chris Steinbrunner and Otto Penzler, observes that Faulkner's tales "sometimes contain elements of mystery, crime, and detection."

Beau Skipper Sets Track Record At County Fair Races

Beau Skipper, a 3-year-old son of Skipper Creek, blazed to a 2:03 mile at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Monday, winning the eighth race and setting a new track record.

The old record was held by Jerry McPherson, set in 1974 with the late Forrest Short in the sulky and tied in 1975 by Miracle Michael with Joe Essig driving.

Jim Ferguson was handling the reins Monday when Beau Skipper paced the record setting mile. He is owned by Paul Schmitt of Marion. He came back and won the second heat of the eighth race in 2:06.

There were 18 heats of racing Monday, and the approximate pari-mutuel handled was $8,400. This is the second year for wagering at the Pickaway County Fair.

The race program was delayed until 4:30 because the printer failed to get programs to the fairgrounds on time. The first heat of the day was barred from wagering because there were no programs.

Priceless Dream, owned by McKinley Kirk of Washington C. H. and driven by Herschel Snyder won both heats of the first race, a pace for non-winners of $1,000 in 1976.

Snyder guided Priceless Dream to a

2:09.1 mile the first trip and brought him back the second in 2:08. Andrea was second both times, Betty Brewster third the first heat and Sweet and Lovely owned by Lloyd David and Jim Arledge of Circleville was third the second heat.

Lavendar Lassie, owned by Ty Davis of Yellowbud and driven by Jim Arledge, paced a 2:14 mile in the first heat of the second race to win it. Gay Frisky was second and Steady Messenger third. In the second heat of the race, Steady Messenger was the winner, Gold Star Scott was second and Fritz, owned by Clyde E. Kohn and driven by Ronald Neal, both of Circleville, was third.

Joseph Franklin, owned by Frank Rhoades of Circleville and driven by Paul Norris of Orient, won the first heat of the third race in 2:09.3. Circle Fair Time, owned and driven by Porter Martin of Circleville was second and Miss Vicki Volo third. In the second heat of the third race it was Miss Vicki Volo showing the way in 2:09, Joseph Franklin was second and Circle Fair Time third.

In the fourth race, Oaklawn Knight, owned by Thomas Blankenship of Ashville and driven by Bryan Weaver of Circleville, paced a 2:11.4 first heat and came back in the second in 2:10 to win them both. Captain Car Lily driven by Ronald Neal was second the first time and Leaders Lady third. The second heat saw Leaders Lady finishing second and BMW third.

The fifth race was split with Tag On, owned by George E. Stump of Ashville and driven by Harry Schilling winning the first trip in 2:08 and Little Frosty owned and driven by Ted Lahmon winning the second in 2:06. Each horse was second in the heat it didn't win. Finishing third both times was Sugar Valley Miss.

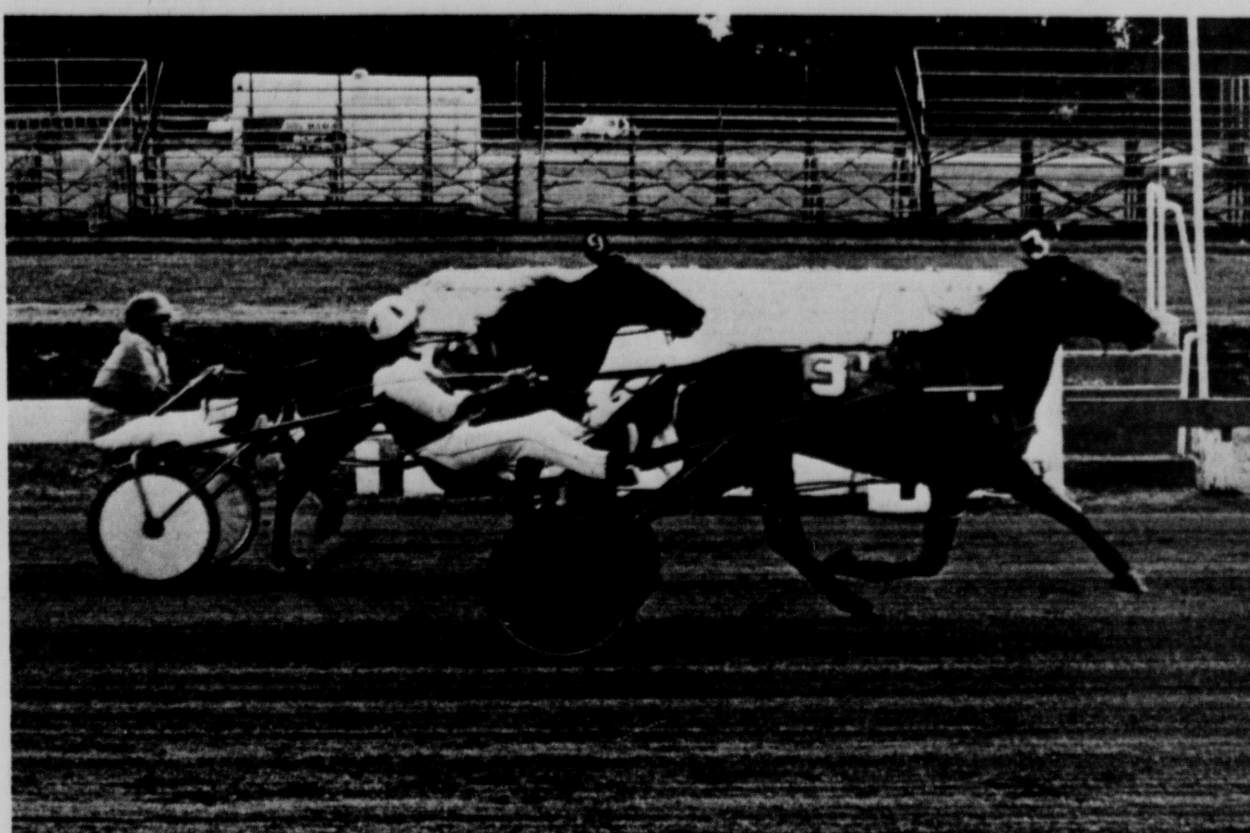

In the sixth race, a 2-year-old stake, Buggs took the first heat in 2:15. Bev Ron was second and Stork, owned by Donna Anderson of Circleville and driven by Bryan Weaver (Mrs. Anderson's son), was third.

Weaver brought Stork back in the second heat to win while Ideal Buckeye was second and Maggie's record third. The time was 2:15.

In the seventh race, the second division of the 2-year-old trotting stake, Tornado Jeffrey won both heats with times of 2:14 and 2:13. Circle was second in the first heat and Frank Merriwell was third. In the second heat Swiss Baby was second and Frank Merriwell third.

The eighth race saw HMC finishing behind Beau Skipper in the first heat and Avalon Kren third while in the second trip Avalon Kren was second and Bobby Reef third.

The ninth race was won by Rawleigh's Move. Driven by Mark Ferguson, the Rawleigh D. Lowe owned pacer turned the first mile in 2:07.3 and the second in 2:05.3. Second

THE WINNER — Priceless Dream, driven by Herschel Snyder and owned by McKinley

Kirk of Washington C.H., won the first heat of racing Monday at the Pickaway County Fair.

Bosox Top Indians, 3-1

CLEVELAND (AP) — Boston's 3-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians was simply the icing on Don Zimmer's celebration cake Monday night.

"This is probably the best day I've ever had in baseball, thanks to Dick O'Connell and the Red Sox," said the Boston manager, his round face glowing with happiness.

Zimmer, who took over only two weeks ago as field general of the Red Sox after Darrell Johnson was fired, earlier in the day received the news from Boston General Manager O'Connell his contract has been extended through 1977.

I've been telling people I wasn't a manager from year to year, but from day to day," Zimmer said. "Today's the first day I've really felt like the manager (here)."

Zimmer, who once served a term as manager for the then hapless San Diego Padres for a year and one-half, made perhaps his first major move Monday since taking over the Red Sox.

The rotund manager asked pitcher Rick Wise, 9-8, to start with three days rest instead of his usual four, and the righthander responded with a five-hit complete game performance.

"It was good to watch Wise pitch tonight on a four-day rotation," Zimmer said. "He has been pitching in a five-day rotation since he hurt his arm two years ago."

B.D. Judy Winner Of Latonia Feature

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — B.D. Judy came on in the stretch Monday night to win the featured eighth race at Latonia by one length.

Taking the mile in 2:05.8, B.D. Judy paid $5.80, $3.40 and $2.80. Second-place Miracle Queen returned $5.40 and $3.60, while show horse was Madam Whitney at $4.60.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Curb an inclination to act or make decisions too quickly. In holding discussions, don't try to force issues or you could overshoot a safe mark.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Great activity indicated in your area — which should prove highly stimulating. Especially favored: creative interests, community projects, travel plans.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Personal relationships should be highly congenial now. In fact, some of your brighter and more amusing companions could give you some stimulating ideas.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Place your confidence in hard facts rather than "feelings" and, in discussions with others, don't be overly imaginative. You could reach too much in their words.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Though many means for advancement exist, you COULD throw a wrench into the machinery if your attitudes are suspicious, your approaches tactless. Beware!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Planetary restrictions lift now so you will find achievement considerably easier. Not only should routine matters go well, but you may even have an opportunity to cash in on an avocational skill.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Introduce a new note — perhaps a new approach — to give more spark to day's doings. Output will substantially improve.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Go after the big gains but do not expect to have things your way all along the line. Be prepared for some opposition and you can meet it more easily.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): A tabulation of "musts" may uncover a weak program — one that should be pepped up to show your abilities to better advantage.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Not much planetary help here. How the day turns out will be largely up to yourself. Use your wits to project the effective and eliminate the mediocre.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Look well into proposed suggestions or you may find yourself involved where you least desire it. Some definite "no" answers will be required.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Avoid tendencies toward restlessness and unruliness. Note warning signals. Many errors and misguided moves can thus be averted. Shun extremes.

YOU BORN TODAY are an extremely self-reliant and determined individual; gifted with many talents and the perseverance required to attain the loftiest of goals. You have a magnetic personality and this, coupled with a talent for entertaining, makes you a "natural" for the stage. You could also excel as an orator, lecturer, salesman or writer. Your intellect is in the superior class; thus, with astuteness and application, you could make an eminent name for yourself in the fields of science or the law. Your energy and enthusiasm are boundless but, here, you must be careful not to overtax yourself. Curb tendencies toward overaggressiveness, too. Birthdate of: Harry Lauder, Scot. actor.

Gen. Anthony Wayne built Fort Wayne in 1795 to protect settlers from hostile Indians.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Business News

A representative of Hill Implement Company, an International Harvester dealership in Circleville, Ohio, recently participated in a three-day training program here. The participant was Harry Barthelmas.

The program is called the Future Action Computerized Training System (F.A.C.T.S. II). It seeks to improve the management skills of employees at IH dealerships in the areas of parts, sales, and service, said J. L. Healy, manager of IH's region for this area.

Hill Implement Company is participating in these seminars as part of the XL dealer program designed for IH's most progressive dealerships, Healy said.

Pennsylvania Deaths Have Officials Puzzled

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Medical researchers today sought to identify an unknown, flu-like disease which in the past four days has brought death to 16 persons who attended a state American Legion convention. Health officials said there was no cause for panic.

Public health officials said the outbreak, which has sent at least 50 other people to the hospital, may be the result of swine flu. They said that they could not now make a firm diagnosis, suggesting viral pneumonia as another possible cause.

The ages of the dead ranged from 39 to 82. At least one death has been recorded officially as pneumonia. Autopsies have been ordered in many of the deaths.

All of the victims experienced the same symptoms: headaches, fever ranging to 107 degrees and chills. These were followed, in most cases, by chest pains, lung congestion and shortness of breath.

"I've never seen anything like it," said state Health Secretary Leonard Bachman.

Blood samples and throat swabbings from the victims were sent to state health laboratories in Philadelphia and flown to the federal Center for Disease Control in Atlanta for tests.

It will take two to three days to grow cultures from the samples. These cultures could lead to identification of the disease.

Cases of the illness were reported throughout the state. All the persons affected attended the 10-day Legion convention in Philadelphia that ended July 24. The first reports of illness came last Monday; the first death last Friday. It was the mounting death toll Monday that alarmed public health officials.

Bachman was asked if it could be swine flu. "That's a possibility," he said. "We're trying to pin it down, but we don't know right now. But there's no reason to panic, everyone should realize that."

More than one million people from throughout the world are gathered in Philadelphia this week for the Roman Catholic International Eucharistic Congress. Congress officials said they had no plan to curtail activities.

The Center for Disease Control, an arm of the U.S. Public Health Service, dispatched a three-man medical investigative team to Pennsylvania. Two other virus experts from the CDC were already in the state.

Dr. Michael Gregg, director of the center's Viral Disease Division, said the symptoms reported by victims are similar to influenza, but it was too early, he said, to say whether it was swine flu.

One recruit died when several hundred soldiers at Fort Dix, N.J., contracted swine flu early this year. The outbreak prompted plans for a nationwide immunization campaign this fall. The program is bogged down on issues of insurance protection for the drug companies producing the vaccine for immunization.

Most of those stricken in Pennsylvania were delegates to the Legion convention, although some wives and children who attended with delegates have also fallen ill.

More than 10,000 legionnaires attended the convention. Bachman said the number of dead and sick in the outbreak will not be known until a statewide hospital-by-hospital survey is finished.

All the deaths were in Pennsylvania,

with the exception of one Philadelphia man who died in North Carolina during a postconvention trip to Florida.

"In the few households we have contacted, we have found no secondary spread to family members," said Dr. William Parkin, chief of the state Health Department's epidemiology section. "That may be the exception rather than the rule as we get more information."

"I can't say there will be transmissions from American Legionnaires to people they are in contact with. We have not had any cases like that yet."

The convention was headquartered at one of Philadelphia's largest hotels although delegates stayed in at least six different hotels. There were fears of food poisoning, but that was ruled out. The symptoms were not similar to those of food poisoning.

Legion officials and state health officers urged any persons with the symptoms of the disease to contact a hospital.

"We're worried about the people who may be carrying around this disease and not know it," said Joseph Adams, commander of the state American Legion.

Richard Dolan, 42, was the only survivor of a threesome from the central Pennsylvania community of Williamstown that attended the convention. His cousin, James Dolan, 39, and John Ralph, 41, both died.

Like the other two men, Richard Dolan became ill after the convention. However, he said he suffers from a chronic condition and was taking antibiotics while he was in Philadelphia.

"This whole thing is so confusing," said Dolan. "My first cousin and one of my best friends are dead."

Lottery Infected With Convicts?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The integrity of Ohio's state lottery is intact despite revelations that as many as 17 persons with criminal records are serving on the lottery commission's staff in the Cleveland area, a state official says.

Commission Director Gerald J. Patronite said through a spokesman that the integrity "has not been impugned or questioned," but he did promise a full investigation into the records of employees. The spokesman said Patronite would comment further today.

His Cleveland office was asked to respond to statements made at a Columbus news conference earlier Monday by four Republican House members and Robert Huffman, Miami County's prosecutor who ventured outside his own jurisdiction for an independent probe of the lottery staff in Cleveland, the lottery's headquarters.

Rep. Robert E. Netzey, R-81 Laura (Miami County) said he asked Huffman to pursue the matter after an unrelated probe of slot machine activity in Miami County hinted at ties between the lottery and organized gambling. Netzey said he doesn't trust the attorney general or Cleveland authorities, a comment that later infuriated Atty. Gen. William J. Brown.

Huffman said his probe was "by no means complete," and involved only 40 man hours. He said it included actual investigations of 63 employees among 277 in Cuyahoga County. Seven have "serious" criminal records, including one chief inspector, while others have been convicted of lesser offenses or have ties with known organized gambling operations, he said. The prosecutor declined to release the names of the employees.

In response to questions, he and Netzey, along with Reps. Richard H. Finan, R-19 Cincinnati; William G. Batchelder, R-93 Medina, and James E. Betts, R-3 Rocky River, said they found no hard evidence of wrongdoing by any employee.

Huffman said salaries of those with records range from about $7,000 to $16,000 a year, and that their past crimes included rape, grand larceny, selling narcotics, burglary, smuggling, auto theft, promoting prostitution, and operating a moonshine still, among others. The oldest conviction was for rape in 1927. The latest involved a $25 fine for gambling in 1970.

Batchelder, an attorney, said there was no state law that prohibits the state from hiring exconvicts, including those with gambling records, but he feels it is a bad policy. "You don't hire a convict to run a day camp," he said.

Huffman charged that the attorney general has been "aware for some time" of the existence of felons on the commission staff, and he was convinced Brown conducted his own probe and decided to suppress the findings.

Brown heatedly denied the charge, attributed it to politics, and said his office never has been asked to conduct nor has it ever investigated lottery employees. If Huffman and the others have information, they should bring it to him—"put up or shut up," the attorney general said.

Netzey and the other lawmakers earlier visited the office of Gov. James A. Rhodes and requested him to order an immediate investigation by the Ohio Highway Patrol—a request the governor turned down.

Instead, Rhodes told them they should present their information to "the proper authorities"—the attorney general or the Cuyahoga County prosecutor. Rhodes did reiterate, however, his earlier objections to the lottery statute which empowers the commission members and not the director to hire staff and set salaries. Patronite is a Rhodes appointee, but the five-member commission is comprised of a majority of former Gov. John J. Gilligan's appointees.

The attorney general likewise noted that he has no authority over the hiring and firing of commission employees, and that the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London, Ohio, under Brown's office, doesn't run background checks on state employees unless requested.

Soviets Say Athlete Brainwashed

MONTREAL (AP) — The deputy chief of the Russian delegation to the Olympics has claimed that young diver Sergei Nemtsanov was brainwashed into defecting as part of an organized plot to encourage Soviet athletes to remain in Canada.

"It is our opinion that Nemtsanov has been psychologically brainwashed by highly trained specialists," Anatoly Kolesov charged during a 35-minute angry news conference Monday.

"We always knew Sergei as a lively, happy person. But yesterday when we met with him he was in a depressed state with a dazed stare and he kept repeating like a parrot, 'I chose freedom.'"

A Canadian immigration department official disagreed, saying Nemtsanov seemed to be in good spirits.

Kolesov claimed that when the 17-year-old Nemtsanov asked to speak alone to friend David Ambartsumyan, another member of the Soviet diving team, officials insisted that a translator be present.

For the only time during the news conference, Kolesov laughed. "No translator is needed between two Soviet athletes who are friends," he said.

PORK QUEEN — The 1976 Pickaway County Fair Pork Queen is Nancy Mace, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mace, Route 2, Williamsport. She was presented her trophy and crown by last year's queen and this year's District VII Pork Queen, Connie Drummond, right, Route 1, Clarksburg. Ms. Mace received $50, a $25 savings bond, trophy, tiara, and a free shampoo and set from the M & W Beauty Salon, Williamsport. Chairman of the contest was Ruby Donohew. Nancy will compete in the district contest in October.

Midway Chatter

In spite of a delayed start, the Pickaway County Fair harness races were over by a little after 8 p.m. And over $8,400 was wagered by those attending the race.

The Stall Cleaner (who prefers to remain anonymous) claims he did a pretty good job of picking winners. The list was published in Monday's edition of The Herald. However, he lost confidence in his selections when he got to the mutual windows and lost everything but his pit-chfork.

Today's racing program, post-time 4 p.m., includes the Forrest Short Memorial 3-Year-Old Filly Pace. Named in honor of Pickaway County's "Gentleman of Harness Racing", a special trophy has been donated by the Short Family, Mrs. Forrest Short, the Missess Ann and Sara Short, and Mrs. Mary Claire Wilson.

Forrest Short was well known in harness racing circles. It was a sport he did not pursue until he was nearly 50. He won the first race ever held at Scioto Downs and won his first race at Old Washington in 1947. Mr. Short was 81 years old when he lost his life in a racing accident July 25, 1975, at Scioto Downs. He was driving J. W. Song in the feature race and was involved in a collision on the track.

At Monday's racing program, there were three outriders — Miss Lori Pritchard of Stoutsville, Mrs. Kenneth Cummins, Ashville and Miss Beth Hovermale, Circleville. Outriders parading the horses to the post today will be Miss Lori Pritchard and Mrs. Kenneth Cummins.

Other race officials were the popular Phil Mauger, announcer; Claire Baker, starter; Robert Steele, general manager of Scioto Downs, the presiding judge; Glenn McCoy and Steve Jones, associate judges, Neal M. Frazier, Charles Carle Sr. and Alva May, timers; Ann and Sara Short and Mary Claire Wilson, clerks; Linda Pollock, race charter; John Fissell, race secretary. Firms donating trophy blankets yesterday and today include: Shaeffer Tire Center, The Savings Bank, R&N Steele's Stonerock's TV and Appliance, Lindsey's Bake Shop, Elks Lodge, Sturm and Dillard Co.

Members of the speed committee at the Pickaway County Fair are Harlow Arledge, Dick Shaw, Fissell and McCoy.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market edged upward today in another uninspired session.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks showed a token .09 gain in the early going, and advances opened up a slight lead over declines among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Brokers found no special news behind the advance, and no evidence that the market was gathering enough force to move out of the narrow channel in which it has fluctuated for the past six months.

Today's early prices included Pillsbury, unchanged at 39 3/4; Talley Industries, up 1/4 at 10, and Merck, ahead 1/4 at 70 1/4.

On Monday the Dow Jones industrial average lost 2.38 to 982.26.

Public Hearing Set For Nutrition Plan For Elderly

The Central Ohio Area Agency on Aging, Columbus Recreation and Parks Department will hold a public hearing on its proposed 1977 plan for nutrition services under Title VII of the Older Americans Act, Friday, August 13, from 1-3 P.M. at First Congregational Church, 444 E. Broad Street, Columbus.

Title VII funds, made available through the Ohio Commission on Aging, are used to provide nutrition programs for older Americans, including transportation to congregate meal sites, as well as home-delivered meals. Currently Title VII projects are operating in Franklin, Fairfield, Fayette, Licking and Union counties. The proposed plan which covers the fiscal year beginning October 1, 1976 and ending September 30, 1977, focuses on maintenance and expansion of the existing projects and the development of projects in Delaware, Pickaway and Madison Counties.

The interested public, particularly Older Central Ohioans are encouraged to attend the hearing and comment on the proposed plan. Summaries of the proposed 1977 plan are available at the Central Ohio Area Agency on Aging, 906 East Broad St., Columbus, or from: Pickaway County Community Action Organization, 165 E. Main St.

CPD Probes Attempted Theft

Circleville Police investigated an attempted theft at the North Court Sohio station Monday evening.

Donald Young, 334 E. Main Street, an employee at the station, told police that a red 1964 Chevrolet came into the station with four men inside. Young sold them gas, then the four men drove to the side of the building and entered the restroom.

According to the police report, the four then entered the station again and asked Young if he had more money than he was carrying in his pocket. Young told the men that all the money was in the safe, then he went to lock the office door. When Young returned he discovered the men trying to move the safe. He ran to the office to call police and the four men then fled the scene. Police said they have a description of the car.

Lucinda A. Kirk reported to city police yesterday that she returned to her trailer at 1310 S. Pickaway Street and discovered a picture album and pictures, and miscellaneous items of clothing were missing. Total value of the items was set at $165.

Teresa Ann Hawks, 17, of 25 Detroit Avenue, informed police that someone removed $45 to $47 from her purse Sunday evening. According to the police report Miss Hawks discovered the money was missing upon returning from work.

John Adkins, 144 Montclair Avenue, informed police that sometime early Monday morning, thieves entered both his cars, a 1972 Vega and a 1973 Oldsmobile, and removed a CB radio from each car. The radios were valued at $125 and $152. Both vehicles sustained slight damage. Police stated that fingerprints are currently being lifted from the Oldsmobile by Ptl. Ron Smith.

A Page Of Opinion

Lifesavers

Not many years ago it wasn't considered polite to talk about suicides. Coroners sometimes listed some other cause of death to avoid embarrassment to the family.

Psychiatrists were about the only professionals to come into contact with suicides before the fact, and then only when one became a patient. But in dozens of communities in the U.S., this has changed.

These are the cities and towns which have suicide prevention bureaus. Almost all locally financed and staffed in large part by volunteers, these bureaus show the burgeoning interest of the public in preventing suicides.

A new class of professionals — suicidologists — is springing up around the centers. These are the clergymen and psychiatrists who make selves available to the depressed person.

Not all callers are actively pursuing a suicide. Some simply seek help for personal problems. But with suicide the 10th ranking cause of death in the U.S. last year, just having someone to talk to can be a lifesaver.

'Fine And Dandy'

By PHYLLIS BATTELE

NEW YORK — Nearly 50 years ago, most women weren't talking about liberation — but many were achieving it.

"We never had the feeling we weren't equal," says Kay Swift of those days in the 1920s and '30s. "I don't remember ever losing any chances because I was a woman, not at all." You could "do your thing" and, if it was good enough, nobody worried or objected because it was the thing-doing of a female.

Kay's thing was music. In 1929 she composed "Can't We Be Friends," a popular standard through the years. In 1930, she wrote "Fine and Dandy," an even more enduring hit. Other compositions, including "Can This Be Love?" and the ballet "Alma Mater" followed.

In those allegedly pre-liberated days, other women songwriters were equally successful. Mabel Wayne turned out the music for "Ramona" and "In a Little Spanish Town"; Ann Ronell wrote "Rain on the Roof" and "Willow Weep for Me." Dana Suisse conceived "My Silent Love." And the late Dorothy Fields dashed off dozens of lyrics to lasting hit songs written by a variety of male composers.

It's sort of odd, isn't it? There were more women songwriters and popular poets and novelists in those decades before the Women's Movement than there are today. Today, girl recording artists like Bobby Gentry, Carly Simon and Judy Collins write much of their own material, but one of it seems likely to bring in the royalties, 50 years hence, that Kay Swift pulls in on her two top standards, "Can't We Be Friends" and "Fine and Dandy."

Every time either is played, live or on recording, ASCAP (American Society of Composers and Publishers) collects a fee and hands a chunk of money to Kay Swift. "It's a good business, writing hit songs," she says, drolly. "I wonder why more women today don't go into it."

She's kidding, partly of course. "You can't sit down and say, 'Now I'm going to write a pop standard.' Nobody's ever done that, man or woman. Not even Cole Porter, not even George Gershwin."

She should know. For the last years of Gershwin's life, Kay was one of his closest friends. His sudden death from a brain tumor in 1937 (when he was only 39) was a shock to Kay. He left no will, but before his illness he had given her many of his manuscripts. Later, she donated them to the Library of Congress, which estimated their value at $77,000. "I wished afterward," she says, "that I had given them to Lincoln Center here in New York, where people could come in and look at them and study them. That would have been a better idea."

Ms. Swift arranged and transcribed, working with George's lyricist brother Ira Gershwin, many of Gershwin's unpublished melodies. They were put together into a hit movie "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim." Her favorite among these was the ballad "For You, For Me, For Evermore."

Kay still has the dainty figure and lively face, along with the talent, that made her a popular figure in the music world for decades. The daughter of music critic Samuel Swift (New York Evening Mail), she graduated from Juilliard and studied composition in Boston with Charles Martin Loeffler before composing the full score of the musical "Fine and Dandy." This was followed by songs for "The First Little Show," "Fourth Garrick Gaeties," score of lyrics for Cornelia Otis Skinner's "Paris '90," and a number of classical compositions, including the ballet "Alma Mater," composed for George Calanchine.

She also was a concert pianist, soloing with the N.Y. Philharmonic, and wrote her autobiography, which later was made into a movie called "Never a Dull Moment," in which Irene Dunne played Kay, and Fred MacMurray portrayed her second husband — a cowboy.

Kay admits she's been happily married three times, and doesn't count out a fourth, even at the age of 71. When George Gershwin was writing "An American in Paris," he did his composition in her weekend house in Greenwich, Conn., but when asked if there was a romance between them, she says, "No comment."

Her first husband was "a brilliant international economist" named James Paul Warburg, now deceased. It was Warburg who wrote the lyrics to "Can't We Be Friends" and "Fine and Dandy," under the pseudonym Paul James. Her second husband was the cowboy, Faye Hubbard, and her third, an actor named Hunter Galloway.

Each marriage ended in divorce, and she has three grown daughters from the first.

Kay is still writing music: "I could write rock, I love a big beat, but I don't think the tunes are very good." While she's waiting for her next standard to come along, she's turning out a second autobiography for Simon & Schuster with the working title, "Seven Lives — So Far."

Meantime, a new album has been recorded by attractive singer Naura Hayden. Called "And Then She Wrote . . ." it is a collection of the hit standards written by woman composers. Kay Swift is the only one who has two hits on the disc and, for every album sold, she gets yet another royalty from ASCAP. She could live comfortably on her royalties, but hates the idea.

The tinkle and rustle of money are not the kind of music Kay Swift enjoys.

Propose National Youth Job Program

BOSTON (AP) — The director of the National Urban League has proposed a national youth employment program to save young people from "the rubbish heap of economic surplus and dependency."

Vernon E. Jordan Jr. said Sunday the league estimates the unemployment rate among young blacks 16 to 19 is 64 per cent.

"Denied the opportunity to equip themselves for self-sufficiency, they face enforced idleness, frustration, the temptations of the street and lifetimes of poverty and dependence," Jordan said.

He commented in the keynote speech at the league's 66th annual conference.

The Chagrin River got its name from the fact that Gen. Moses Cleaveland and his party, surveying the area for the Connecticut Land Co. in 1796, were chagrined because at first they believed it to have been the Cuyahoga River.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, August 3, the 216th day of 1976. There are 150 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in History: On this date in 1492, Christopher Columbus sailed from Spain on the expedition that resulted in the discovery of America.

On this date:

In 1943, during World War II, there were anti-Nazi demonstrations in Milan, Genoa and other cities in Northern Italy.

In 1961, it was disclosed that 90 cadets at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point had been dismissed for cheating in examinations.

In 1961, the first jet airliner hijacking was attempted. A man and his son flying from Los Angeles to Houston tried, without success, to divert an airliner to Cuba.

Ten years ago: Premier Alexei Kosygin said the U.S. role in the Vietnam War isolated the nation from the rest of the world and jeopardized U.S.-Soviet relations.

Five years ago: Cuba closed its embassy in Madrid in a dispute with Spain over trade policies.

One year ago: A chartered airliner crashed at Agadir, Morocco, killing 188 people.

Today's birthdays: Singer Tony Bennett is 50 years old. Former film star Dolores Del Rio is 71.

Thought for today: There is no more independence in politics than there is in jail — Will Rogers, American humorist, 1879-1935.

Bicentennial footnote: 200 years ago today, two American boats tried but failed to capture or destroy two British warships as the ships made their way up the Hudson River to Tappan Zee.

"So much for the friendly part..."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Some of our friends think that the ballyhoo about the swine flu vaccine is exaggerated. What is the doctor's point of view?

Mr. and Mrs. J. W., Maine Dear Mr. and Mrs. W.:

If only one life is saved by the "ballyhoo" then your friends are wrong.

Far too many people have called this intensive drive a political maneuver. This is totally unfair because epidemiologists who know about the spread of disease are completely separated from any such intrigue.

Already, thousands of people across the country have served as test subjects to evaluate the dose requirements, the efficacy and the side reactions of the new "swine flu" vaccine.

It is well known that any flu injection may cause sore arms and a mild fever in a small percentage of cases.

For years, doctors have heard the complaint, "I got an injection and then caught the flu so I'll never take it again." This is not valid and has been responsible for the fact that in 1957 and 1968 many people who chose not to be inoculated became a mortality statistic.

Unless there is a specific contraindication to its use because of allergy or hypersensitivity, the scientific value of the new vaccine must be accepted.

The plan of Public Health officials is to keep all doctors posted on every phase of this great national undertaking. If there are any political overtones it is an excellent reflection on the "political" awareness that good health is a substructure of our destiny.

For the past few months my fingernails have become dark yellow in color. I've tried everything to get rid of this discoloration without success. All ten nails have this color.

Mrs. R. M., Mass.

Dear Mrs. M.:

The first thought that occurs to me is the possibility that the nails themselves may not be discolored. Perhaps it is the bed beneath the nail that is yellowish.

Discolorations of this sort may be due to a mild jaundice. This can be easily determined by many of the blood tests that are now available.

It is difficult to believe that a fungus infection would involve all of the fingers. Have you consulted a doctor about this or are you just trying a variety of homemade remedies?

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH . . . For greater safety in the home, children and adults, too, will benefit by keeping sharp knives in protective sheaths.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

In regard to the article in your paper, July 19, 1976, concerning Student Loan Ripoff a few more thoughts need to be incorporated into the article to see the entire picture.

First of all the problem cited and the statistics quoted concern only the Federally Insured Loan Program administered in Washington for the 25 states which do not have agencies like Ohio.

There are 26 states like Ohio who administer their own program under the Guaranteed Student Loan Program authorized by the Higher Education Act of 1965 as amended. These programs are well run and have not experienced the same default problems but have guaranteed more money than the FISL program in Washington.

For instance, the Ohio Guaranteed Loan Program guaranteed $30,000,000 this year and over $210 million since 1962 and has experienced only a 1.9 per cent default rate. Almost $50 million has been repaid to date.

This seems to speak quite highly of the Ohio program and the citizens of the State of Ohio who have borrowed to attend school and repaid their obligations. You might look at the record of the three largest lenders of student loans in Pickaway County. The Ashville Bank, the Second National Bank and the Third National Bank of Circleville loaned $43,980, $41,380 and $14,600 respectively last year and between them have over $360,000 outstanding in student loans and as of our 1975 report, we have only paid one default claim totalling $148.00.

I agree the problem cited is real for the federal program and one which demands attention which by the way, Congress has been doing for the last six months, (Note HB 14070) which requires the Commissioner of Education to promote each state to establish its own agency and take the program away from Washington control.

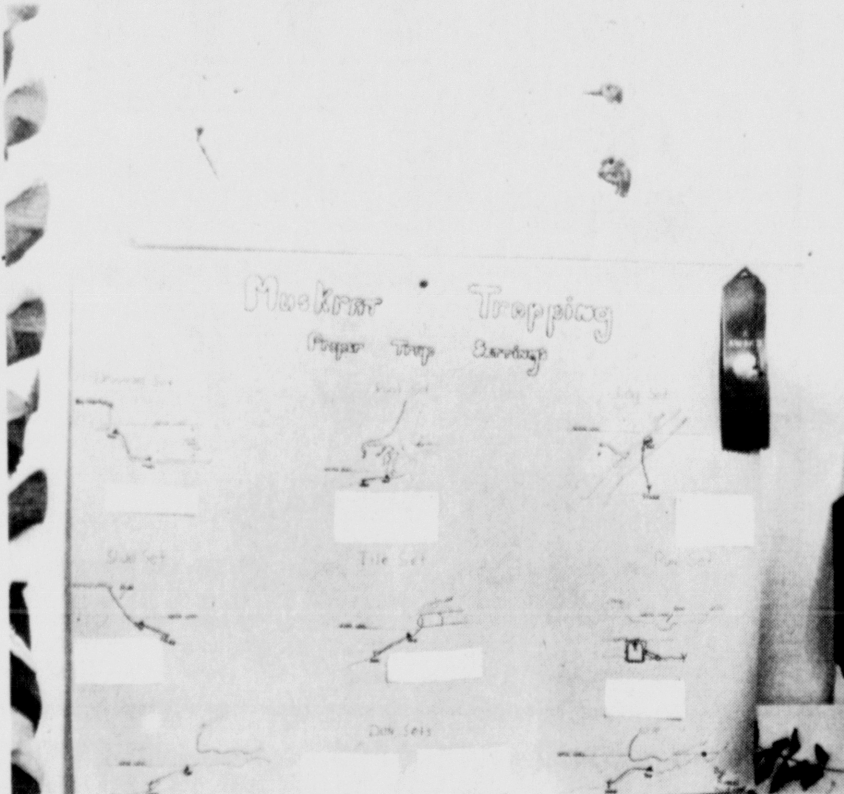

In Ohio we need to reflect the program as it is in Ohio so that current lenders and potential new lenders are not "scared off" by a problem which does not exist in this state.

Sincerely,
DOUGLAS R. SEIPELT
Assistant Director
Ohio Student Loan
Commission

Motorcycle Rider Injured Monday

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy J. R. Fite investigated an injury-causing accident involving a motorcycle on the Tarlton Road just east of Zane Trace Road.

Stephen R. Draise, 20, Route 1, Williamsport, was injured severely when he crested a small grade Monday night and lost control of his vehicle traveling off the right side of the road into a ditch.

Draise suffered compound fracture to his left leg, severe lacerations to his chin, multiple contusions and abrasions. He was taken to Berger Hospital by the Tarlton Squad and later transferred to Riverside Hospital.

An unknown criminal broke into a shop owned by Clay Thompson, Route 2, Canal Winchester, and stole a router sometime during the past two weeks. The router is valued at $100 according to Deputy Billy Huffman's report.

Paul Porter Jr., 615 Ridgewood Drive, told sheriff's deputies that a culprit entered Porter's Laundry Mat, 1185 N. Court St., and took a 10-speed bicycle valued at $100 belonging to his son between 2 p.m. Friday and 7 p.m. Sunday.

Lawrence Smith, 236 Gregory Trailer Court advised the sheriff's office that someone stole a tire, rim, and chrome lug nuts, all valued at $65, from his car between 1 and 8 a.m. Monday.

Terry L. Davis, 11482 Ballah Rd., Orient, told Deputy R. L. Phillips that a culprit threw an unknown item at his front window and broke it. Damage to the double-plated window is estimated at $150.

Tagg Camper Offers Complete Line Of Recreational Vehicles

For the most complete line of camper's and recreational vehicles in the area, stop in at Tagg Campers on U.S. Route 23 North. Everything from new campers to spare parts is available at Tagg's, and it's available at a good price.

Owner Walter Tagg keeps the overhead low and doesn't approach customers with high-pitched sales gimmicks. "We provide good service, and we try to give the buyer the best for his money," says Tagg.

A big item at the Tagg sales lot now is the Concord 5th Wheel. The 5th Wheel is a luxury camper trailer that includes all the conveniences of home. Its features include a six cubic foot three way refrigerator, a four-burner range with oven and automatic lighting and a power vent, 30 gallon demand water system with a six gallon gas water heater, two 20 pound gas bottles, a fire extinguisher and carpet throughout. The outfit sleeps 4 to 7 people.

Tagg points out that the 5th Wheel has all the comfort and luxury of a mobile home, and many people use it as such in the warmer southern climates during the winter.

Another popular product of the Concord line is the Concord Bantam. The 16½ foot Bantam is small enough to handle like a van, yet it features all the comforts of larger motor homes. Many families even use the Bantam as a second family car.

As with all Concord products, the Bantam is built with rugged steel cage construction, with body-bonding urethane foam insulation.

On the inside, Bantam offers four different floor plans so the buyer can obtain the Bantam best designed for his or her needs.

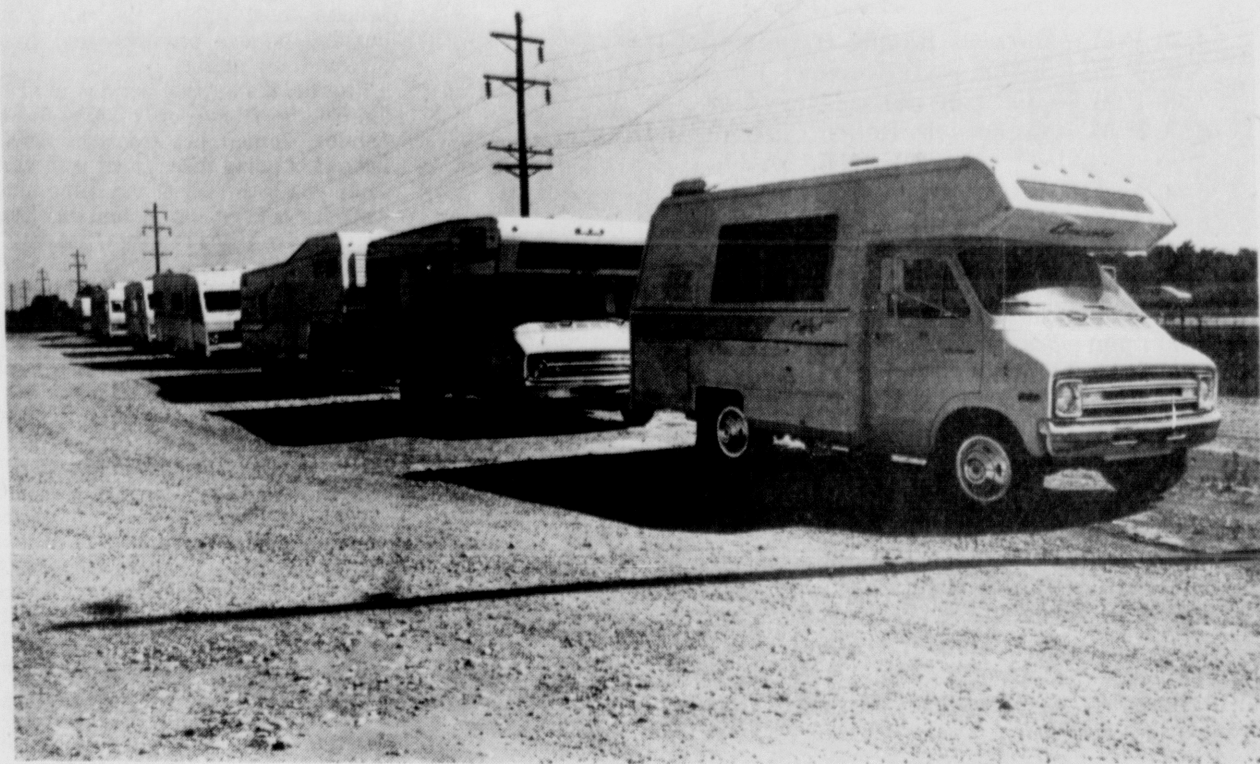

For touring, you can get the Bus-Type Bantam which provides ample room for luggage and seating for six persons.

If you have a camping family, then you should check the Family Camping Bantam. This model features marine toilet and shower, range, stainless steel sink, refrigerator, furnace, and dinette area.

If you like to relax when attending sports events, then look into the Party Van model of the Bantam.

If you need an extra vehicle for your business, check into the versatile Utility Van "shell" that allows you to customize as you wish.

Walter Tagg reminds customers that Tagg Campers has excellent service on nearly all makes and models of campers and recreational vehicles. A parts truck stops at Tagg Campers every Friday, so parts are never more than a few days away. And Tagg's has

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Don't Just Visit, Take Elderly Out

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column about visiting the elderly in nursing homes prompts my first "Dear Abby" letter.

I agree, it's a great service to visit an elderly friend or relative in a nursing home, but consider this: Instead of going there to sit with him while you both look at the same four walls he looks at day in and day out, why not give him a change of scenery?

Take him for a little drive and stop for a bite to eat. Or take him window shopping. Or treat him to a home-cooked meal with the family. Just being away from the institution will relieve his boredom and lift his spirits.

If he isn't able to walk, be aware that they now make lightweight wheelchairs that can be easily folded and tucked into the trunk of the car.

Abby, this is a plea to your readers who visit someone in a nursing home: Please turn those routine duty visits into special events by treating the patient to an occasional outing. It will do wonders for him. And for you, too. I know. I've been a volunteer in such a home for over 10 years.

BESS

DEAR BESS: What a pity you'll never know how much happiness your suggestion will bring to countless residents of nursing homes throughout the nation. Bless you for writing.

DEAR ABBY: I am so glad I can write to you with this problem because it has bothered me for years and I can't go to anyone else with it.

I married a very nice man and we have two lovely children. I want so much for them to be legitimate, but if I'm not, then THEY can't be either, and that is my problem.

What must I do to make my children legitimate? Thank you.

MEMPHIS MOM

DEAR MOM: You did it. You married their father. All children born to a married couple are legitimate, regardless of the legitimacy (or illegitimacy) of their parents.

DEAR ABBY: I am planning my wedding. I want my bridesmaids to wear southern bell type dresses and enter carrying parasols instead of flowers.

I want them to walk down the aisle with their parasols open, until they reach the front of the church. Then they would turn to face the congregation and close their parasols, keeping them closed for the duration of the service.

My fiancé and his mother say this would look stupid. What do you and your readers think?

BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: I think it might look as though you were trying to create a Broadway musical production effect. And for those who are superstitious, it's bad luck to open an umbrella indoors.

Burger King Beef Heard

CINCINNATI (AP) — Golf Manor Mayor Michael Schwartz's beef against the Burger King hamburger chain is simple: the "Have It Your Way" song was really done his way.

Schwartz, a singer and songwriter, filed suit against the chain Monday in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court to the tune of $9,500.

The mayor of Golf Manor, a Cincinnati suburb, claims the hamburger jingle was taken from a song entitled

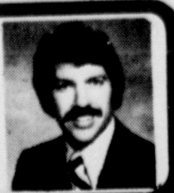

"Man's World" that he wrote, recorded and copyrighted in 1968.

Schwartz said the song was written for use in a nonprofit advertising campaign for the Big Brothers of America that was aired in 1970.

The "Have It Your Way" song is signed by Dennis Berger and copyrighted 1974 by the Burger King Corp. Schwartz submitted copies of both songs to the court.

BancOhio Reports Earnings

BancOhio Corporation reported operating earnings for the first half of 1976 of $11,483,000 or $1.57 per share, a 7.2 per cent decline from the record high earnings of $12,380,000 or $1.69 per share reported in the corresponding 1975 period. Net income, after securities transactions, was $1.57 per share compared to $1.60 per share the first half of 1975.

Operating earnings for the second quarter were $6,108,000 or 83 cents per share, a 4.6 per cent decrease from the $6,402,000 or 87 cents per share earned in the second quarter of 1975. Net income for the second quarter was 83 cents per share compared to 89 cents per share in 1975.

Robert G. Stevens, chairman of the $3.5 billion asset corporation, stated that while second quarter operating earnings showed a 13.6 per cent improvement over the first quarter, the sluggish demand for business loans experienced by the nation's commercial banks continued to have a depressing effect on BancOhio's earnings. Average commercial loans outstanding for the six month period were $38.8 million less than the amount outstanding for the same period in 1975. However, Mr. Stevens also noted that a strengthening in consumer lending activities, including residential real estate loans, was encouraging and offset, to some degree, the loss in revenues from business loans.

The charge against earnings for potential loan losses in the first half amounted to $5.3 million, about the same as the $5.4 million provided in the first half of 1975. Actual net loan charge offs amounted to $4.3 million, a 44.1 per cent decrease from the amount charged off during the first six months of 1975.

The reserve for loan losses at the end of June stood at $14.5 million and represented a quite strong 0.98 per cent of loans outstanding compared to a .78 per cent at the end of June 1975.

Directors of BancOhio Corporation, July 28, 1976, declared a regular quarterly cash dividend of 30 cents per share, payable September 10, 1976 to shareholders of record August 20, 1976.

The Second National Bank of Circleville is an affiliate of BancOhio.

Cattlemen Join In Reds Farmers Night Presentation

AT FARMERS NIGHT — The Ohio Beef Marketing Program participated in the annual Cincinnati Reds Farmers Night festivities at Riverfront Stadium July 17. A purebred Angus heifer was among the prizes. Pictured with the heifer are, from the right: Smith T. Powell Jr., president, Kentucky State Beef Cattle Assn.; Mary Beth Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Evans, Zane Trail Road, Ohio Queen of Beef; Kevin Jones, Georgetown, winner; Marvin Berschet, South Charleston, chairman of the Ohio Beef Marketing Program; John Arnett, Schearbrook Land and Live Stock Inc., Clayton.

A registered Angus heifer and $250 toward the purchase of a side of beef were prizes offered by Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky cattlemen at the Cincinnati Reds Farmer's Nite on July 17. Over 51,000 baseball fans were in attendance.

The Ohio beef Marketing Program, Indiana State Beef Cattle Association, and Kentucky State Beef Cattle Association joined in the Farmer's Nite promotion.

The pure-bred Angus heifer was won by Kevin Jones, of Georgetown. She was donated to the beef organizations by Shearbrook Land and Livestock, Inc., of Clayton, Ohio. She has been bred to a Chainaina bull, and will produce a pure-bred Ankina calf, a recently recognized breed.

David McLaughlin, of Middletown, won $250 toward the purchase of a side of beef, offered also by the three state beef organizations. The McLaughlins will purchase the beef from their local meat market, and will be reimbursed by the cattle organizations.

"This is just one way that these three organizations can remind consumers and producers that the Beef Industry is a major factor in the economy of the 'Tri-State' area," according to Carl Harsh, Executive Director, Ohio Beef Marketing Program.

Rodger Wasson, of Indianapolis, executive director of the Indiana State Beef Cattle Association; and Mr. Smith T. Powell, Jr., Stanford, Kentucky, President of the Kentucky State Beef Cattle Association, assisted with the promotion.

Rail Authority Stumbles Along

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Rail Transportation Authority (ORTA) is rolling down the line uncertainly in the face of continuing ambivalence from the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes.

ORTA was created by the legislature seven months ago to develop a statewide rail plan for freight and passenger service. To date, little has been accomplished.

"We still feel that the transportation department could do everything that ORTA is doing," Rhodes executive assistant Thomas J. Moyer told the House Economic Affairs and Federal Relations Committee last week.

Rhodes, however, signed into law legislation establishing ORTA despite the misgivings of his transportation agency.

"There seems to be an effort on the part of certain executive agencies under the control of the governor to thwart ORTA," said Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, chairman of the committee and originator of the rail authority concept.

"Mr. Moyer," he added, "what we are looking for is a spirit of cooperation in this matter."

ORTA's troubles began in April when the infant agency was evicted from offices at the State Office Tower in a problem over rent payment. Then a dispute surfaced between Transportation Director Richard Jackson, an ex-officio but voting member of the five-man ORTA board, and rail director Graeme J. MacKeown.

Jackson questioned MacKeown's educational background and the Marysville man subsequently resigned, leaving ORTA without an engineer.

Board member Carl E. Freshour has taken over as acting director, but a new dispute has arisen with the Department of Administrative Services over whether ORTA is entitled to a full-time director.

"There is no directive from the governor's office to executive departments to thwart the efforts of ORTA," Moyer told Wilkowski.

But the aide also emphasized Rhodes "doesn't see any way rail transportation can be funded without substantial subsidies from the state and federal government...that is the big stumbling block."

The long-range funding problem was compounded June 8 when voters defeated for a second consecutive time a constitutional amendment to permit state and local borrowing to salvage hundreds of miles of freight rail line.

Wilkowski wants to try the ballot issue again next June. "Maybe the third time will be the charm," he says hopefully.

"He (Rhodes) understands the critical importance of freight rail lines to many industries," Moyer assured the Toledo attorney.

ORTA is also supposed to plan for high speed passenger service between Cleveland, Akron, Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati, and along the Youngstown, Cleveland, Toledo corridor.

Amy Carter Joins Animal Campaign

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Amy Carter has joined 8-year-old Liza Diprima's campaign to save wild animals from trappers.

Liza said Amy, daughter of Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter, sent her a letter accepting honorary membership in her Animal Saving Association, a group of elementary school students organized under parental auspices.

Liza wrote to Amy last week suggesting she not sell tuna fish sandwiches at her lemonade stand at the Carter home in Plains, Ga.

Complaining that tuna fishermen drowned porpoises in catching tuna, Liza offered an honorary membership to Amy and included a campaign button reading: "Don't kill animals for fun or fur."

She said Amy replied in a letter: "Dear Liza, thanks for your letter. I really appreciate the button. I think what you believe about saving the animals is great. I do agree. I appreciate you making me an honorary member. Thanks again for writing. Your friend, Amy."

LARRY THORNTON

CHS Graduate To Teach Seminars

Larry Thornton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thornton, 100 Logan Elm Blvd., has accepted an invitation to conduct ecumenical Christian Parents Seminars at six United States Air Force Bases in England during August and September.

Thornton is a 1953 graduate of Circleville High School, a 1957 graduate of Ohio University, and a 1960 graduate of McCormick Seminary, Chicago, Ill.

Married, he and his wife Julie are the parents of three children. After graduation from seminary, he pastored in Oakland, Calif., for 7½ years before moving to Kansas City, Mo., where he is presently serving.

He will be working with Annette Pfannenstiel of Kansas City in conducting the seminars. The goal of the seminars will be the reaffirmation of the nuclear family as the basic learning environment for the formation of human character and the nurturing center for the spiritual and moral growth of children. Seminar schedule is six hours of teaching on each of the three days at each base.

Mrs. Thornton plans to join her husband in September for some touring in England and Scotland. They will return to Kansas City in late September.

Until 1850 the Western Reserve along Lake Erie was predominately an area peopled by New Englanders, as were settlements like Marietta and Granville.

Finding Faulkner

NEW YORK (AP) — One would hardly expect to find Nobel Prize winning writer William Faulkner listed in the "Encyclopedia Of Mystery & Detection" (McGraw-Hill).

But there he is right between Father Brown and Faust, Frederick. The book, edited by Chris Steinbrunner and Otto Penzler, observes that Faulkner's tales "sometimes contain elements of mystery, crime, and detection."

Beau Skipper Sets Track Record At County Fair Races

Beau Skipper, a 3-year-old son of Skipper Creek, blazed to a 2:03 mile at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Monday, winning the eighth race and setting a new track record.

The old record was held by Jerry McPherson, set in 1974 with the late Forrest Short in the sulky and tied in 1975 by Miracle Michael with Joe Essig driving.

Jim Ferguson was handling the reins Monday when Beau Skipper paced the record setting mile. He is owned by Paul Schmitt of Marion. He came back and won the second heat of the eighth race in 2:06.

There were 18 heats of racing Monday, and the approximate pari-mutuel handled was $8,400. This is the second year for wagering at the Pickaway County Fair.

The race program was delayed until 4:30 because the printer failed to get programs to the fairgrounds on time. The first heat of the day was barred from wagering because there were no programs.

Priceless Dream, owned by McKinley Kirk of Washington C. H. and driven by Herschel Snyder won both heats of the first race, a pace for non winners of $1,000 in 1976.

Snyder guided Priceless Dream to a

2:09.1 mile the first trip and brought him back the second in 2:08. Andrea was second both times, Betty Brewster third the first heat and Sweet and Lovely owned by Lloyd David and Jim Arledge of Circleville was third the second heat.

Lavendar Lassie, owned by Ty Davis of Yellowbud and driven by Jim Arledge, paced a 2:14 mile in the first heat of the second race to win it. Gay Frisky was second and Steady Messenger third. In the second heat of the race, Steady Messenger was the winner, Gold Star Scott was second and Fritzite, owned by Clyde E. Kohn and driven by Ronald Neal, both of Circleville, was third.

Joseph Franklin, owned by Frank Rhoades of Circleville and driven by Paul Norris of Orient, won the first heat of the third race in 2:09.3. Circle Fair Time, owned and driven by Porter Martin of Circleville was second and Miss Vicki Volo third. In the second heat of the third race it was Miss Vicki Volo showing the way in 2:09. Joseph Franklin was second and Circle Fair Time third.

In the fourth race, Oaklawn Knight, owned by Thomas Blankenship of Ashville and driven by Bryan Weaver of Circleville, paced a 2:11.4 first heat and came back in the second in 2:10 to win them both. Captain Car Lily driven by Ronald Neal was second the first time and Leaders Lady third. The second heat saw Leaders Lady finishing second and BMW third.

The fifth race was split with Tag On, owned by George E. Stump of Ashville and driven by Harry Schilling winning the first trip in 2:08 and Little Frosty owned and driven by Ted Lahmon winning the second in 2:06. Each horse was second in the heat it didn't win. Finishing third both times was Sugar Valley Miss.

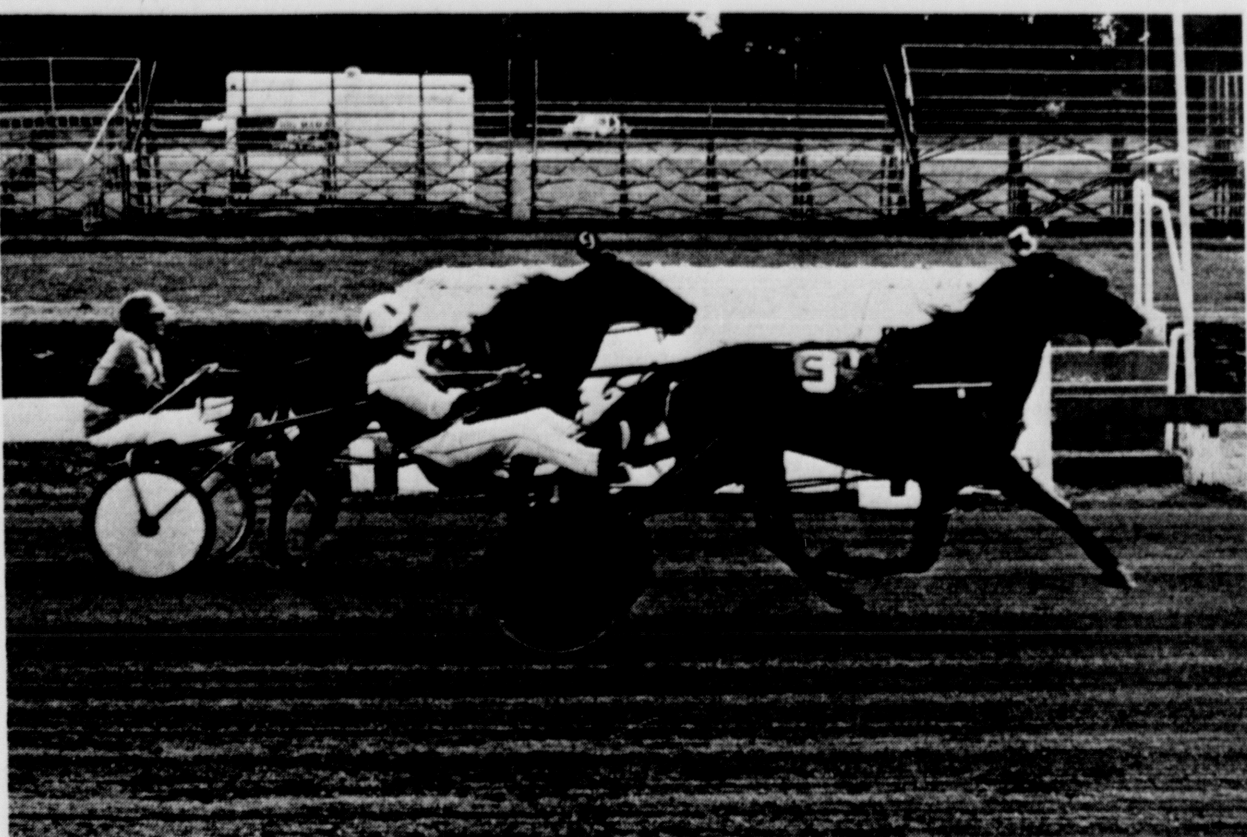

In the sixth race, a 2-year-old stake, Buggs took the first heat in 2:15. Bev Ron was second and Stork, owned by Donna Anderson of Circleville and driven by Bryan Weaver (Mrs. Anderson's son), was third.

Weaver brought Stork back in the second heat to win while Ideal Buckeye was second and Maggie's record third. The time was 2:15.

In the seventh race, the second division of the 2-year-old trotting stake, Tornado Jeffrey won both heats with times of 2:14 and 2:13. Circle was second in the first heat and Frank Merriwell was third. In the second heat Swiss Baby was second and Frank Merriwell third.

Bosox Top Indians, 3-1

CLEVELAND (AP) — Boston's 3-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians was simply the icing on Don Zimmer's celebration cake Monday night.

"This is probably the best day I've ever had in baseball, thanks to Dick O'Connell and the Red Sox," said the Boston manager, his round face glowing with happiness.

Zimmer, who took over only two weeks ago as field general of the Red Sox after Darrell Johnson was fired, earlier in the day received the news from Boston General Manager O'Connell his contract has been extended through 1977.

I've been telling people I wasn't a manager from year to year, but from day to day," Zimmer said. "Today's the first day I've really felt like the manager (here)."

Zimmer, who once served a term as manager for the then hapless San Diego Padres for a year and one-half, made perhaps his first major move-Monday since taking over the Red Sox.

The rotund manager asked pitcher Rick Wise, 9-8, to start with three days rest instead of his usual four, and the righthander responded with a five-hit complete game performance.

"It was good to watch Wise pitch tonight on a four-day rotation," Zimmer said. "He has been pitching in a five-day rotation since he hurt his arm two years ago."

B.D. Judy Winner Of Latonia Feature

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — B.D. Judy came on in the stretch Monday night to win the featured eighth race at Latonia by one length.

Taking the mile in 2:05.8, B.D. Judy paid $5.80, $3.40 and $2.80. Second-place Miracle Queen returned $5.40 and $3.60, while show horse was Madam Whitney at $4.60.

Hawks, Pickaway Meet For Crown

The Herald Hawks and Pickaway DuPont will meet 7 p.m. tonight for the championship of the Pickaway Area Little League Major tournament on the softball diamond at Ted Lewis Park. A second game will be played at 9 p.m. if needed.

The Hawks are the winners of the winners bracket while Pickaway DuPont won the losers bracket. The Hawks need one victory for the championship while Pickaway DuPont must win two games to take the tournament.

Circleville Girls Set Volleyball Program

Coach Joy O'Brien has announced that all candidates for the Circleville High School girl's volleyball team should report 10 a.m. Aug. 16 at the high school to begin the conditioning program.

Players must have their physical examination cards with them when they report and be dressed to participate in the program.

Horseshoe Qualifying

Any resident of Pickaway County, regardless of age or sex, may qualify for horseshoe pitching contest. The deadline for qualifying is 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Curb an inclination to act or make decisions too quickly. In holding discussions, don't try to force issues or you could overshoot a safe mark.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Great activity indicated in your area — which should prove highly stimulating. Especially favored: creative interests, community projects, travel plans.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Personal relationships should be highly congenial now. In fact, some of your brighter and more amusing companions could give you some stimulating ideas.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Place your confidence in hard facts rather than "feelings" and, in discussions with others, don't be overly imaginative. You could reach too much in their words.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Though many means for advancement exist, you COULD throw a wrench into the machinery if your attitudes are suspicious, your approaches tactless. Beware!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Planetary restrictions lift now so you will find achievement considerably easier. Not only should routine matters go well, but you may even have an opportunity to cash in on an avocational skill.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Introduce a new note — perhaps a new approach — to give more spark to day's doings. Output will substantially improve.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Go after the big gains but do not expect to have things your way all along the line. Be prepared for some opposition and you can meet it more easily.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): A tabulation of "musts" may uncover a weak program — one that should be pepped up to show your abilities to better advantage.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Not much planetary help here. How the day turns out will be largely up to yourself. Use your wits to project the effective and eliminate the mediocre.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Look well into proposed suggestions or you may find yourself involved where you least desire it. Some definite "no" answers will be required. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Avoid tendencies toward restlessness and unruliness. Note warning signals. Many errors and misguided moves can thus be averted. Shun extremes.

YOU BORN TODAY are an extremely self-reliant and determined individual; gifted with many talents and the perseverance required to attain the loftiest of goals. You have a magnetic personality and this, coupled with a talent for entertaining, makes you a "natural" for the stage. You could also excel as an orator, lecturer, salesman or writer. Your intellect is in the superior class; thus, with astuteness and application, you could make an eminent name for yourself in the fields of science or the law. Your energy and enthusiasm are boundless but, here, you must be careful not to overtax yourself. Curb tendencies toward overaggressiveness, too. Birthdate of: Harry Lauder, Scot. actor.

Gen. Anthony Wayne built Fort Wayne in 1795 to protect settlers in the Indiana Territory from hostile Indians.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
I S L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

FOR THE OUTDOOR SPORTSMAN

INDIAN COMPOUND BOW

It requires no tuning adjustments—ever. Factory set and inspected the Golden Comanche 50/25 comes ready to fire. Available in 50 lb. draw weight only, the 50% drop-off to 25 lbs. at 30 inches draw assures better aim, more accurate arrow flight. Continuous black nylon-coated, steel cable assembly, with center serving, eliminates string breakage and cable problems.
